Subject: webinars on updates to the EPA formaldehyde rule

Erik and Mark,

Cindy mentioned that she had discussed the possibility of doing webinars about the recent changes to the formaldehyde rule with the two of you.

We propose doing two webinars either the same day or on consecutive days to cover both producers in Asia and Europe and make sure folks understand that they're identical and there is no need to attend both. Our thought is we would do one at noon EDT which would be workable for both folks in the U.S. and those wrapping up their work day in Europe and one at 7 or 8:00pm EDT that Asian producers could do as they begin their day.

As you can imagine we anticipate that we would want to update both producers and importers on the compliance timeline as well as touch on all the newest resources that are out there about both the rule generally and the recent changes.

I understand Erik is travelling so we propose either any day next week (8/14-18) or Thursday 8/24 or Friday 8/25.

Please let us know your thoughts!

Sincerely,

Joe
